Dear Sir,

While meeting at our Church Young Peoples Fellowship, a discussion was held concerning your courageous stand.
Although our information was gathered solely from local newspaper reports, we feel that admission to a university should not be subject to racial discrimination.

We realise that supporting this principle has involved considerable violence. While this is regrettable, we feel if it has opened the way for further Negro enrolment then, the effort has been worthwhile.

Much concern has been expressed in our group over the deaths of two men. We feel that, while this followed from your action, that the awkward question of blame is better laid at the door of the more fanatical and hoodlum elements of your opposition.

We send our best wishes for you, and any companions in the future of this move.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Friends:

Thank you very much for your good wishes.

The kind thoughts expressed by all of you and many others during this period will always be remembered.

Sincerely yours,
